

Geographical Features Named After Indian Chiefs Are Numerous From Coast To Coast

Geographical features named after Indian chiefs are numerous in Canada. It is nearly 100 years since the first appearance on a map of the name of the Great Bear River, which flows into the Arctic Ocean. Petawawa River flows on a map made in 1820 by Colonel D. C. Deser.

Beef Grading

General Support Given To Beef Grading Policy Of Department Of Agriculture

On his return from the annual meeting of the Western Cattle and Horse Raisers' Association, held at Regina, Saskatchewan, Mr. J. H. McLeod, Minister of Agriculture, reports that the best of the beef industry is in favor of the Department.

Not only are the livestock men themselves taking a real interest in the opportunities presented by the new system, but the stockmen, the retail stores and the consumers are all taking a growing interest in the graded beef policy.

For the livestock man it means earlier return for better quality livestock, for the packing house it means better business with the processor and reduced cost to a minimum, to the housewife and the retailer it means better value for the money.

The new system is taking hold well in the West, and as more beef is graded comes through from the West, the Department of Agriculture will be better able to handle the increased volume of business.

Problems Poultry Men Have Not Solved

Why Eggs Should Differ According To Where They Are Laid
Why should eggs laid in January, February, and March, make light and July make heavy, even after the birds are laid in March give the same weight as those laid in January, February, April or May?

There were some of the unsolved problems mentioned by the professor of the University of Guelph, Ontario, at the University of Guelph, Ontario, at the University of Guelph, Ontario, at the University of Guelph, Ontario.

Discoveries regarding vitamin and the 50-day hen possible for the poultry man to produce and cook were being becoming and birds were being studied and, rabbits, carrots and cow liver oil.

X-ray experiments on eggs were being made to improve the percentage of the eggs. An experiment was made to improve the percentage of the eggs. An experiment was made to improve the percentage of the eggs.

ELECTION NOTICE

UNTIL JULY

Announcement of the long Battle adjournment of Parliament - from April 11 to 24. The House of Commons adjourned the possibility of any Federal election before mid-summer.

It is unlikely that the budget will be brought down before the recess; in fact the long holiday is such as evidence that it will not be until the end of the month, possibly in June.

It is the hope of the majority of the joint committees of the two houses to effect compromise on the budget, and the Government is to be noted before the Canadian Parliament resumes April 24. By holding up our budget until after the recess, the Government will have no opportunity to draft its budget in accordance with United States Action, a policy which Mr. King and his cabinet have been favored from the public platform.

A pre-election budget debate is an interminable affair, and it is feared that after April 24 we may make the entire possible election month. Some of the political prophets fear September, though the completion of the budget and full ploughing are arguments against it in the country. The economic outburst at London in late September and October would amount a September election to be held very early in that month. The most chance would be an open in December.

The actual fact is that the Government itself has not determined when the election will come. Economic conditions of the time, the future and political developments will be the guide.

The Government was ready to dissolve the House of Commons, but the high legislature to stop clearance of liquor in the United States has blocked it. However, not yet formed the opposition.

Mr. King was four years late in bringing it down, and that his action now was impelled by political expediency rather than the high moral ground which he asserted.

There does not on the moment appear to be another "moral issue" in the Government's hands. The budget was not a practical issue, though the opposition has taken the ground that it will compel the Government to face the country on the record, and not on any new issue.
